

Craig Ball is a Board-certified Texas trial attorney living in New Orleans. Craig limits his practice to serving courts as a Special Master and teaches Digital Evidence and Electronic Discovery at the University of Texas School of Law. He blogs at ballinyourcourt.com.